

2010 Cable Tray Prices

Article Overview

In 2010, cable tray prices typically ranged from $5 to $20 per meter depending on material, type, and coating.

Estimated Price Ranges by Material and Type

- Galvanized Steel Ladder Trays: $8-$15 per meter. This was the most common type, balancing durability and cost, often used in commercial and industrial installations .
- Stainless Steel Trays: $15-$25 per meter. Preferred for corrosive environments, such as chemical plants or outdoor installations .
- Aluminum Trays: $12-$20 per meter. Lightweight and rust-resistant, suitable for areas where weight reduction was important .
- Plastic or PVC Trays: $5-$10 per meter. Budget-friendly and corrosion-resistant, but limited to light-duty applications .

Cost Factors in 2010

- Tray Type: Ladder trays were more expensive than perforated or wire mesh trays due to higher material usage and load capacity .
- Coating and Finish: Hot-dip galvanizing (HDG) added durability but increased upfront cost, while pre-galvanized steel was cheaper but less corrosion-resistant .
- Standard Lengths: Most trays were sold in 2.4-meter sections, with fittings priced per piece .
- Installation and Labor: Skilled labor, welding, and mounting hardware contributed significantly to total project costs .
- Bulk Orders: Large project orders often reduced per-meter costs due to supplier discounts
