

Original Manufacturer of Norwegian Mesh Cable Trays

Article Overview

BVS is the original Norwegian manufacturer of mesh cable trays, specializing in offshore and arctic cable management systems.

BVS, based in Norway, is recognized as a world-leading supplier of cable management solutions, including mesh cable trays, cable ladders, struts, and accessories designed for extreme offshore and arctic environments . Their products are manufactured from AISI 316L stainless steel, ensuring high corrosion resistance and durability under harsh conditions . BVS focuses on providing complete cable management systems tailored for offshore installations, including trefoil cleats, racks, and earthing bars, making them a trusted choice for demanding industrial projects .

Product Features and Applications

BVS mesh cable trays are engineered for robustness, safety, and ease of installation. They are suitable for:

- Offshore oil and gas platforms
 - Arctic and extreme weather environments
 - Large-scale industrial and infrastructure projects
- The company emphasizes customized solutions to meet specific project requirements, ensuring that cable trays and support systems are optimized for both performance and installation efficiency . Their R&D department continuously improves product functionality based on customer feedback, maintaining high standards for quality and reliability
