

Price of Optical Cable Reel Box

Article Overview

Optical cable reel boxes typically range from $50 to over $1,000 depending on size, capacity, and features.

Price Overview

- Small indoor reels (Reel-in-a-Box): These are designed for inside plant applications, such as data centers or wireless projects, and usually contain 1,000 feet or less of single-fiber cable. Prices for these small reels generally start around $50–$150 per box, depending on fiber type and manufacturer (e.g., Corning Reel-in-a-Box) .
- Medium to large field deployment reels: Reels designed for field installations, aerial or underground cabling, or temporary setups often hold 1,000–3,000 feet of fiber. These reels, made from durable polymers or metal, can range from $200 to $600 per reel, with additional features like handles, stackable design, or connector cradles increasing the cost .
- Specialized or military-grade reels: High-end reels with impact-resistant construction, built-in dividers, and fiber management accessories can exceed $1,000, especially when customized for specific deployment environments .
- Bulk purchasing: Suppliers like Alibaba offer bulk optical fiber cable reels, which can reduce the per-unit cost significantly for large orders, though exact pricing depends on quantity, specifications, and shipping .

Factors Affecting Price

- Reel capacity: Larger reels holding more fiber cost more.
- Material and durability: Polymer, metal, or military-grade reels vary in price.
- Features: Handles, stackable design, built-in dividers, and connector cradles add t...
