

Qatar Optical Cable Production

Article Overview

Qatar produces optical fiber cables primarily through local manufacturers like Doha Cables, Al Jassra Fiberplast, and Al Mazrouei ICAS WLL, while also relying on imports from China, Oman, and India.

Local Manufacturers

Doha Cables is the first Qatari manufacturer of cables, established through a partnership between AAMAL Holding and El Sewedy Cables in 2009. The company produces high-voltage, low-voltage, and fiber optic cables, contributing significantly to Qatar's domestic cable production and supporting national infrastructure projects aligned with Qatar National Vision 2030. Al Jassra Fiberplast specializes in fiberglass products and advanced manufacturing processes relevant to fiber optic cables, ensuring adherence to international quality standards. Al Mazrouei ICAS WLL manufactures and distributes fiber optic cables and passive network solutions, supporting projects across Qatar and the GCC region. Other notable players include Microsys Networks WLL, ELV Cart, and Rockford Communication Solutions, which provide structured cabling, patch leads, and industrial networking solutions, complementing the local production ecosystem.

Market Overview

Qatar's optical fiber cable market has experienced fluctuations in consumption and imports over the past decade. Imports remain a significant component, with China supplying 51% of total imports, followed by Oman (7%) and India (5.6%) in 2025. The average import price in 2024 was approximately $7,166 per ton, reflecting a no...
