

Ranking of Swiss Anti-corrosion Cable Tray Companies

Article Overview

Legrand and Cablofil are among the top Swiss/European manufacturers for high-quality, corrosion-resistant cable trays.

Legrand

Legrand offers a comprehensive range of wiremesh cable trays with advanced anti-corrosion treatments suitable for various environments. Their products include High Resistance (HR) coatings, hot-dip galvanizing (HDG), ZnAl, ZnMg, and ZnNi finishes, providing protection against chemical and environmental corrosion. Legrand trays are designed for durability, flexibility, and long-term performance, making them ideal for industrial, commercial, and harsh outdoor environments. Their global presence and continuous innovation in cable management solutions make them a reliable choice.

Cablofil

Cablofil, a brand under Legrand, specializes in wiremesh cable trays and is widely recognized in Europe for efficient, innovative, and corrosion-resistant solutions. Their products are suitable for complex installations, and tools like CabloCAD and the web configurator allow precise 3D modeling and project estimation. Cablofil trays are particularly valued for lightweight construction, ease of installation, and adaptability in both industrial and commercial settings.
