Key Manufacturers

Prysmian Group Prysmian offers TENAX-LUMEN self-luminous power cables, designed for mining applications where visibility is critical. These robust trailing cables supply power to large mobile mining equipment and enhance safety by remaining visible in low-light or hazardous environments. Their expertise spans over 130 years in energy and telecom cables, with a focus on durability, flexibility, and operational reliability under extreme conditions (Prysmian Group), . Shenzhen ZhaoXian Special Optical Cable Technology Co., Ltd. Founded in 2015, ZhaoXian specializes in special optical and self-supporting cables for power, communication, marine, and industrial applications. Their product range includes ADSS, OPGW, marine, 5G, FTTH, anti-rodent, flame-retardant, and underwater cables, making them a versatile supplier for specialized luminous or high-performance cable needs (Shenzhen ZhaoXian), . SAB Bröckskes SAB Bröckskes manufactures custom industrial and special cables, including flexible and tailored solutions for industrial automation, vehicle technology, and off-highway applications. They provide complete connection solutions from development to ready-to-connect implementation, suitable for small quantities and highly customized requirements (SAB Bröckskes), . bda connectivity GmbH Based in Germany, bda connectivity has over 60 years of experience producing special cables optimized for communication, electrical, automotive, and medical applications.
